Terms of the Equine Adoption and Placement Agreement

The equine may not be sold, given away, or traded unless AES is notified first and approves the new home. The equine may be returned to AES if adopter can no longer keep the equine for any reason. The adoption fee, if any, will not be refunded. Any equine returned to AES must possess a current negative coggins which is the responsibility of the Adopter to provide.

Transportation arrangements and costs are the responsibility of the adopter at the time of placement and in the event of return.

AES has the right to visit the property where the equine resides. If, in the sole discretion of AES, it is determined that the living arrangements and/or care of the equine are inadequate or inappropriate, AES reserves the right to seize and re-take possession of the equine.

If the Adopter changes the location of the equine or changes the equine's veterinarian, AES must be provided with the new stabling and veterinarian information within 30 days of said change. The Adopter also agrees to provide AES with any change in his/her address within 30 days of said change.

The Adopter agrees to send a veterinarian's brief statement of the adopted equine's residence, general condition, weight, teeth and hoof condition annually during the anniversary month of adoption. Adopter agrees to send photographs of the equine to AES with the veterinarian's statement.

Adopter is to provide sufficient good and wholesome food, clean water, shelter, sufficient exercise, farrier and veterinary care.

AES reserves the right to approve or deny a potential adoptive home at AES's sole discretion.

I _____ (adopter), accept _____ (equine), as he/she is in behavior and present health. I agree to be solely responsible for all liability of this equine and will hold harmless AES against all liability of this horse.

I acknowledge that I have carefully read this Agreement and affirm that I understand its terms. I agree I am entering into this agreement voluntarily and not in reliance on any promises or representations other than those contained in this agreement itself.
